Total Blackout Brings Surprises

Orders Issued To Evacuate Are Countermanded

At 4:45 o'clock last night, Carmelites were startled into action when the fire siren shrieked its four blast warning for five short minutes. It was the village's first taste of total blackout.

The blackout, which capped the entire peninsula, was very successful. In Carmel, it was particularly so. Although in some cases the police were forced to use their sirens and red lights, the streets were cleared of traffic almost immediately. All inhabitants were ordered to take cover for the duration of the blackout, and block wardens told all residents to remain at home with their families.

Under cover of darkness from somewhere came the orders that Carmel was to be evacuated. Certain precinct captains ordered members of their precincts to leave immediately for Monterey, and as a more unfortunate action in some areas, small boys ran down the streets shouting the word to clear out. At least 15 or 20 people were known to have left Carmel.

In the outlying districts, the Mission Ranch Club was one of the first to be evacuated. Several of the inhabitants were sent up Carmel Valley. While driving up the Valley road without lights, they were amazed to meet other cars with lights blazing, and in a short time everyone was sent home.

During all this, rumors flew thick and fast. There was one which said that only a thousand foot strip along the waterfront was to be evacuated. Another said that there were five Japanese battleships just off Santa Cruz, while still another claimed there was a major sea engagement going on 150 miles from San Francisco. Most fantastic were the claims of actual invasion, and bombers directly overhead.

Those who remained at home, were, for the most part greatly puzzled, when they discovered that there wasn't a California station (including KDON) that went off the air. Even the "touchy" Los Angeles stations were strong and clear.

In Santa Cruz, where wholesale evacuation was taking place, hundreds of men, women and children living in waterfront homes were sent, by the army, inland to the shelter of friends, churches, and schools. The all-out period, which started at 6:45 p.m., ended at 7:55 p.m. and everyone returned to their homes. The army described the situation as a "precautionary measure in case of an eventuality."

In Carmel, the "all clear" came at 8:45 p.m. and everything returned to normal.

Christmas Play to be Given by Both Schools

"On Christmas Eve", the traditional annual Christmas pageant, will be presented by High School and Sunset students in the Sunset School Auditorium, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18, at 2:30.

"On Christmas Eve" opens with the High School A Cappella Choir singing the opening number. The Sunset chorus then creates the background by singing the story of the birth of Christ as it unfolds before us in four scenes: Mary and Joseph arriving at the inn; the shepherds watching their flocks, the three kings seeking "A

If You Want to Help, Tell Precinct Captain

There are numerous things the average citizen can do if he wishes to help in the present emergency.

Civilian Defense would like some volunteer typists.

If you cannot type but want to help, report to your precinct captain.

If you do not know who he is, see the list in the article on this page entitled, "ASK QUESTIONS OF YOUR BLOCK WARDENS."

Urgent Need of Red Cross Workers

Carmel's Red Cross is in serious need of volunteer workers to:

(a) Furnish personnel for First Aid Stations. Persons who have qualified in the Advanced Course are preferred. Persons otherwise qualified and suitable will be given instruction for qualification for First Aid work.

(b) To furnish reserve for nurse

One for All and All for One Now

By CARLOS DRAKE

During this initial period of wartime preparation it is natural that there should be some confusion. What occurred last night, when several coast cities, including Carmel, were ordered to evacuate, is an example. These orders were issued here suddenly in the total blackout and were as suddenly countermanded. Many people were frankly skeptical, while others became hysterical.

It is hoped that incidents of this nature will not be repeated, yet we must appreciate that until all organizations for our defense become adjusted to war conditions, mistakes will occur; there will be numerous surprises and alarms.

Our Civilian Defense Corps, which has really done a remarkable job in a very short and hectic period, has been chiefly handicapped by conflicting orders — a condition which will undoubtedly be smoothed out. What we all should realize is that the Civilian Defense must take all orders given by those in proper authority, and it is our duty to cooperate in the execution of those orders cheerfully and promptly.

It is vitally important that, because of circumstances which may seem bewildering, we do not cry "Wolf! Wolf!" A real emergency must not catch us napping.

I sincerely hope that all Carmel citizens heard over the radio or read in the newspapers what Lieut. General John L. De Witt, ranking officer of the Pacific coast told the leaders of San Francisco in Mayor Rossi's office on Tuesday. His remarks can be applied here as well. They were a straight-from-the-shoulder warning to all of us in California that we've got to realize that we're at war, that we're facing a grave danger, and that the safety of each of us depends on the cooperation of everyone.

The General found the blackout in San Francisco on Monday night, when enemy planes were reported flying over that community, extremely unsatisfactory. Those planes were also reported to be flying in the direction of Monterey, and our blackout that same night was pretty bad.

"It was not a hoax," declared the General. "It is foolish, it is insane for anybody, I care not whom I refer to, to assume that officials like myself and Admiral Greenlade, with our responsibilities in

CIVILIAN DEFENSE INSTRUCTIONS

No blackout will be enforced unless there are four blasts on the fire siren repeated for five minutes.

1. Restricted lighting will be enforced from tonight on (your Block Warden will explain this provision to you).

2. No signs lighted in streets, no lights unprotected in business houses that show in the street.

3. Business houses may have lights provided they can be put out one minute after the blackout alarm.

4. Streets in Monterey and Pacific Grove will be lighted until the signal blows. They will be out in Carmel and East Monterey. This is due to the fact that the mechanism in the latter two cities is such that the lights cannot be put out in a hurry, but this will be corrected in the near future.

5. Pending further instructions, autos will run with the usual lights until the alarm sounds when they will immediately blackout and pull over to the curb and stay there.

6. Public cooperation has been excellent and while we regret the inconvenience, it has given valuable information and training to the cities and the Civilian Defense organization.

BY ORDER OF E. A. H. WATSON, CHIEF WARDEN, CARMEL AREA.

Ask Questions of Your Precinct Block Wardens

On behalf of the hundreds of volunteers in Civilian Defense I want to express amazement and tremendous appreciation of the cooperation given by residents of the Carmel Area in the partial blackout of Tuesday night. Instructions and information were received so late that only a modest percentage of success was expected, but the cooperation of the residents made the partial black-out so extensive that Col. Mack congratulated me on the results.

These results, however, were due mainly to the splendid work of Air Raid Wardens and other precinct Wardens who did their utmost under very trying conditions. In addition, the Area staff closely followed up the hundreds of reports telephoned in to Area headquarters.

As our organization is perfected, information and instructions will be quickly relayed to householders through their Block Wardens. For anything you wish to know, consult your Block Warden. If you do not know who he is, call your Senior Air Raid Warden. These men, with their headquarters' telephones are as follows:

Precinct 1, Carl Daniels, 918; Precinct 2, Malcolm Tarpey, 1800; Precinct 3, Floyd Adams, 481; Precinct 4, Jack Belvail, 1040; Precinct 5, Ivan Kelsey, 1030; Carmel Woods, Arne Halle, 1300; Hatton Fields, Paul Low, 1553; Point and Mission Tract, W. M. Llewelling, 1668; Carmel Highlands, Sidney Fish, 980 MX; Carmel Valley, Bernard Schulte, 16-J-1; Pebble Beach, Ashton Stanley, 130; Country Club, C. C. Stewart, Monterey 5171.

Only when circumstances are exceptional call Carmel Area headquarters, 1924-W. Leave the police telephones for police calls.

E. A. H. Watson,
Chief Warden, Carmel Area.

Needless Telephone Calls at Night Urged Stopped

The Telephone Company urgently requests the public to refrain from making any unnecessary telephone calls during blackouts, air raid warnings and similar emergencies, in order to keep the circuits clear for vital calls.

Prompt and efficient communication is absolutely vital to military and civilian defense activities", said Mr. Sexton, manager of the company, "and one result of Monday night's blackout was a sudden upsurge of telephone calls from resident users, which interfered with the prompt completion of important messages."

"We are doing everything possible to handle all calls promptly, but if everybody wants to call at once, as was the case Monday night in blackout areas, delays are bound to happen."

"The public can help in these sudden emergencies if everyone will avoid making unnecessary calls and keep their conversations brief."

The incomparable NANI Ball was in town over the week-end for a visit. NANI will be well-remembered as one of the leading canine citizens of a few years ago when she was residing here at "Vagabond's House" with her master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. Al Ball. She had a fine time revisiting her old haunts and looking over a few of the gay Army dogs. NANI'S brown eyes were sparkling with excitement over the fact that her mistress, known in the literary world as Armine von Tempski, had just finished another book, and that the Balls had moved into their new home, "Wanaao", in Manhattan Beach. Her old friends were so glad to see NANI that they made her promise to come to Carmel again soon.

A devastating young gentleman by the name of RHETT BUTLER Dienelt has recently joined the local lolly-pop lickers set. His master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dienelt, were going to call him "BLACKOUT", because of his dusky complexion, but a white spot on his nose spoiled the effect, so they named him after that dashing and romantic gentleman, Mr. Butler, for even at kindergarten age, the little fellow gives every indication of following in the colorful footsteps of his namesake.

What the well-dressed young man-about-town will be wearing this winter was strikingly demonstrated the other afternoon by that canine Beau Brummel, DOODLEBUG Walton, when he called on his best girl, MISCAN (PINK-BOW) Fraser. The dashing DOODLEBUG was nattily attired in a Victory Blue turtle-neck sweater—and what a handsome picture he made! Esquire fashion department please copy.

POKEY van Andle is very busy with the interior decorating business these days. The helpful little dachshund has been assisting his master, R. van Andle, on some of his more important jobs. Because of the shortage of yardsticks, Mr. van Andle has been taking POKEY along to measure draperies, floor

New Officer on Police Staff

Officer Norman Caserly arrived in Carmel Wednesday at blackout time and half an hour later had taken up his duties as desk officer at police headquarters.

He comes from Pasadena; he is 21 years old, and is a graduate of the San Jose State College Police School.

Since he has never stopped in Carmel before, Officer Caserly says he'll have to wait to tell us what he thinks of the town until later, not having seen much more than a green blotter thus far.

Officers' Club to Give Dance Saturday Night

There will be a dance at the Fort Ord Officers' Club on Saturday, Dec. 13, at 9 p. m. An excellent 12-piece orchestra will provide music for dancing and there will be a full program of entertainment.

Members on active duty and retired army, navy and marine corps officers and their ladies are invited.

spaces, rugs, etc. POKEY makes a very accurate measuring stick. He is much more versatile than the old style wooden yard stick because he can measure around corners or at right angles by altering the angle of his tail. POKEY waxes very enthusiastic about every job he is on and goes around checking up to see that everything is all right. He loves his work and some day hopes to have an interior decorating shop of his very own.

PHILIPPE Singer is still wearing a blush on his handsome French poodle countenance because one of his friends spied him coming out of a local beauty salon. PHILIPPE hastily explained that he had come to call for his mistress and NOT for a permanent. He insisted that his hair was naturally curly and that he had it trimmed by a barber. Poor PHILIPPE, just because he is so frightfully handsome his less favored male friends are always ribbing him. What price beauty!

Salvation Army Makes Christmas Appeal

The familiar Salvation Army kettle in front of the Post Office and the visit of the War Cry seller marks the opening of the Christmas Appeal of this organization in Carmel, it was announced by Adjutant Bram Glaeser, officer in charge of army activities for the Monterey peninsula.

The adjutant told of plans for the distribution of grocery orders to needy families and of the serving of a Christmas dinner to men who are away from home for that day. There is also to be a Christmas tree and program for the kiddies.

In the work the people of Carmel are invited to share by supplying the funds with which it can be carried out.

Adjutant Glaeser warns against giving to other organizations who pass a tambourine and wear a uniform when thinking that this local work is benefiting. The Salvation Army has its local uniformed representative, Miss Ruth Neff, who is selling the War Cry and the worker at the kettle is also a local member.

Every veteran of the last war will remember the magnificent work done by the Salvation Army. This brave and unselfish organization is ready to do its part in the present emergency.

Council Notes

The Carmel Library is now opening at 10 a. m. and closing at dusk.

Council meeting was held Wednesday night behind blackened windows. All members were present except Keith Evans, who was in a special conference at Salinas, so for him Councilman P. A. McCreery acted as mayor pro-tem.

Tirey Ford's request for permission to build another cottage at Lobos Lodge between Monte Verde street and the tennis court was received favorably provided he would set it back ten feet.

Permission was granted Mrs. Valona F. Brewer to have her parcel of land declared a building site.

The Starway to Beauty Shop may have its sign, without its being spelled "shoppe."

Edward Kuster expressed astonishment at the fact that the M. J. Murphy Company, which took over the job of clearing up the Golden Bough theater from Ross Cowan, had failed to complete their work. There were several tons of plaster, iron, steps, etc., which they had failed to remove. He stated that he intended to grade and fill in the property as soon as the remainder of the debris is cleared away.

It was announced that 18 men have already volunteered for the position of fireman in case of an emergency.

War Brings Rush of Enlistments

An increase of 1000 per cent in Army recruiting was announced by Capt. Ben Cherakin, in charge of regular Army recruiting in San Francisco. Applications are being received by as many as 100 a day. In view of the rush of the fighting youth of America, Capt. Cherakin said, "We'll probably be getting 2000 a month from now on, as compared with the 200 monthly we got before the war."

Also in order to increase their ranks to meet the present emergency, the Navy department has issued orders drastically relaxing the rigid physical requirements, and although the Marine Corps has not yet followed suit, they report that in San Francisco alone there have been 350 applications in the last three days. Enlistments tallied previously have averaged only three or four a day.

The Naval Reserve, and the Naval Flying Cadet selection offices have also been swamped with applicants, and a hurry call has been issued for men between the ages of 17 and 50, with Diesel engine experience.

THREE CARMELITES ARE NEW AMERICAN CITIZENS

Friday, America took from the Monterey peninsula 33 more foreign born and called them by that beautiful name they have all dreamed of—"citizen."

Amongst them were two Carmelites and one former Carmelite. New Americans are: Battista G. Odello and Jean L. Voidrot of Carmel and Charles Sayers, now of San Francisco but a short time ago, a village woodcarver.

They were enemy planes, and I mean Japanese planes. They were detected and followed to sea. Frankly, it was damn nonsense for sensible people to assume I would practice an alert on this population and lead them into foolish judgment and action. We will not have such a practice alert."

There are still a few people in Carmel who disagree with those in a position to know better than they, who think Monday night's alarm was a deliberate trick in order to waken up the population to the necessity of blackouts, but in spite of their opinions, the Civilian Defense organization here has seen to it that there will be no more half-baked response to an alert.

All members of Carmel's Civilian Defense Corps are to be congratulated on their tireless efforts this week. Blackouts the past few days have been efficiently executed; there has been remarkably little confusion, no serious traffic accidents.

But there must be no relaxing of our awareness to the danger which exists and which can only be minimized by careful following of Civilian Defense regulations.

People who are likely to suffer from blackouts in this community are the merchants, shop and restaurant owners, who have depended a great deal on tourists, and it is hoped that citizens who are not

NO BLACKOUTS
INSIDE PLAYHOUSE

After several days and nights of jitters, blackouts and the uncertainties of wartime now-you-get-it-and-now-you-don't radio, the Playhouse promises entertainment and relief tonight and tomorrow by offering Capt. Dwight Long, who fascinated a Carmel Forum audience some weeks ago, in two film talks. Tonight's presentation, "Tropical Adventures", was given a private showing before President Roosevelt, as a result of which the National Geographic Society has booked this magnificent color film and Capt. Long's accompanying narration for an early date in Washington. The route taken by this intrepid young modern Magellan, in his little 32-foot ketch, covers strange seas and the marvelous out-of-the-way portions of Jamaica, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Panama, the Darien Indian country, Cocos Island and the weird Galapagos. No one of the packed house which greeted Capt. Long at Sunset Auditorium will want to miss this thrilling sequel to the film presented there. It is a particularly timely showing because of the great importance of these colorful and gorgeous islands to Uncle Sam's defense.

Tomorrow evening Capt. Long would like to say, in connection with your slogan, above quoted, that:

Your streets are TERRIBLE; blind corners a menace, and in conjunction with bright auto lights, invite DEATH, for which your Town Council, from Mayor down, should be held responsible.

Your parking system is the worst I've ever experienced. ABSOLUTELY ROTTEN!

A famous headmaster in England wrote of this presentation, "Students can learn more of the world and of geography from this single lecture of Dwight Long's than we could teach them in a year."

Under blackout regulations there will of course be no outside illumination of the Playhouse, but managing-owner Edward Kuster, who expresses the hope that he may be enabled to keep the theater open during these troubled and nervous times, assures us that inside the walls it will be cheerful, warm and cozy.

The old home town has changed a bit since I was just a lad,
For in those days the home-owned stores were all we ever had.
I remember how the boss would come and meet us at the door—
He always made us feel at home when we were in his store.

Whenever roads were needed and some other work was done,
The owners of our local stores were always called upon.
When other things were needed to make a better town,
They were always glad to do their share, they never turned it down.

And now and then 'twould happen, folks would need a little stuff
To keep them through the winter when times were kind of tough.
But it didn't seem to matter—for the man who owned the store
Would always give folks credit and deliver to their door.

The independent food stores we know so well in town,
Will always give us service that no other store can crown.
And also if we care to note we'll find that they employ
The home town men just like they did when father was a boy.

So when you go out shopping for your Christmas food and drink,
Just look around at what they have and stop a while and think.
These independent food stores will give to you in joy
The service they gave father, too, when father was a boy.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

THE VALOR OF IGNORANCE

I.

INTRODUCTION TO A PROPHECY

Many years ago a book was written predicting and describing our war with Japan. It was called "The Valor of Ignorance" and its author was an officer of the United States Army named Homer Lea. Harper & Brothers published it in 1909.

Like the Irish patriot, Erskine Childers, who as a British M. P., wrote a novel in the 1900s called "The Riddle of the Sands" with the intention of warning the British Admiralty to create a North Sea fleet as a protection against Germany, the American Homer Lea hoped that his book would arouse a spirit of preparedness on the part of his countrymen against a "yellow menace" which he, among comparatively few at that time, recognized.

Considered in the light of today, with the preparedness our Government has achieved, with the development of aviation, and radio, and submarine warfare, along with many scientific advancements, this book seems a little dated. It refers to a period when our defenses were appallingly weak—our Navy fallen on indifferent days, our Army practically negligible. It criticizes a system of organization in our militia, which has changed. Yet there are fundamental facts in this book still of great interest to every patriotic and intelligent citizen of the United States.

Introducing it, Lieutenant-General Adna R. Chaffee, late Chief-of-Staff, U. S. Army, wrote: "The popular belief in our country that money is the controlling factor in war needs to be materially shocked and greatly modified. . . . The shades of night are not yet so dense as to shut from memory the recollection that certain states, having small treasury accounts and poor credit, fought near to bankruptcy wealth much superior to theirs."

Major General J. P. Storey, U. S. A. Retired, wrote: "Man in his evolution from primitive savagery has followed laws as immutable as the laws of gravitation. No nation has long been permitted to enjoy the blessings of peace, unless able to safeguard such blessings by force of arms. The richer a nation may be in material resources, the more likely it has been to fall a prize to a more militant people. The continuous enjoyment of peace and national independence has always cost dear, but is well worth the price."

Here are a few quotations from the book, showing how an American over thirty years ago, grasped certain factors that we are forced to consider today.

Philosophy—

"A war with Japan demonstrates the truth of the statement that no one can foretell from age to age, or even from decade to decade, in what quarter of the world will rise up a great military nation. This Minerva birth of militant power has always been to mankind an enigma, a dread, but never as yet a lesson. By these things he never profits. He forgets when he should remember, and scorns where he should inquire. So from time to time do warring, conquering tribes burst upon the incredulous world; sometimes from rocky places; sometimes out of wreckage; down from the alcoves of God, or up from abysses, they thunder and destroy."

"So it has come about that on Islands, beautiful in their poverty, terrible in their serenity, brews and rumbles another such tempest as has heretofore swept over the abodes of kingdoms that have thought naught of them."

"Due to science and invention, international relationship, heretofore existent, has been completely revolutionized, and those lands and nations once without the sphere of conquest are wholly within it. Conquest, moreover, has ceased to be an imperial progress wherein monarchs were wont to display their greatness and crime and generosity. It has now become the conquest of peoples to gain such means of wealth as are yet unlooted in the vaults of nature."

"Two general phases of international relationship may exist between nations so as to modify hostile competition and lessen the probabilities of war."

"(1) Racial relationship, with concomitant similarities in religion, ethical and sociological conditions.

"(2) Economic interdependence.

"Racially, there exists no relationship between the people of Japan and of the United States. The ethical and sociological conditions extant in Japan, while antithetic to those existent in the United States, are nevertheless the product of two thousand years of Japanese development. In international politics, all restraints have been removed;

THUMBPRINT

*Almost reluctant, we approach the block
Cleft from a stout sequoia; calculate
By arches, loops, concentric rings the date
Of Hastings, Plymouth, Gettysburg. The shock
Darkens our eyes; as dying men a clock,
We read the scornful summary of fate—
Elizabeth an inch—an estimate
How such curtailment at our love shall mock.
Redwood has fingerprinted Time, the seams
Of his gigantic thumb: this circlet grew
While Heloise yet laughed; these whorls define
Dante's "new life"; and when this curve was new,
John Keats could hope for mercy. Shall our dreams
Shrink to a millimeter, half a line?*

FICTION

one after another pulled down and thrown aside by the relentless, predetermined policy of Japan. In economic relationship, conditions that might tend to the prevention of war do not exist . . .

Actuality—

"Since the Russian War, Japan has directed her undivided attention to that conflict which—should it end in victory—would give her half the world. Her preparations for war prior to her conflict with Russia were insignificant with what have gone on subsequent to that war.

"Inasmuch as the primordial sources of future conflict have their origin in Japan's predetermined intention to become supreme in the Pacific, her progress toward warfare is orderly and her preparations consistent. Every move is planned, every emergency taken into consideration; the American armament and preparation, or lack of it, are in all its phases tabulated; the topography of the country surveyed, climatic conditions noted, depths of streams, heights of mountains, food supplies, means of transportation and subsistence belonging to each section of possible spheres of military activity have been carefully investigated and preparations made accordingly. In this manner, years before war is declared, the most insignificant details and possibilities of hypothetical campaigns and battles have been so worked out, and all exigencies so minutely taken into consideration, that the war itself, when once begun, proceeds with invincible orderliness.

"In such a manner Germany overthrew the French Empire in less than two months (in 1870).

"In a few hours, one May afternoon, the Russian navy ceased to exist.

"The study of maritime supremacy, ancient or modern, shows vividly that the size of a nation is an immaterial factor. The smallest powers have, by superior naval and military force, held in check the greatest nations.

"Japanese dominion in the Pacific is consequent upon the possession of such naval bases as will in the future prevent the establishment of a Pacific naval power by any other nation. In other words, Japan must enunciate in new form the oldest of all international doctrines—commonly known as the Monroe Doctrine—and control unto herself the Pacific.

"The Philippine Islands bear the same strategic relationship to the Southern Asian coast as the Japanese islands do to the Northern, with the exception that the Philippines have the additional strategic value of commanding all ship-routes from Europe to the Far East. Their possession is more essential to Japan than either Korea or Manchuria. Without the Philippines, Japan's dominion in Asian seas will be no more than tentative, and her eventual domination or destruction will depend upon who holds these islands.

"The relationship the Philippines bears to the Eastern Pacific is similarly held by Samoa in relation to the Southern Pacific. The harbor of Pago-Pago is the most valuable anchorage in the South Pacific. In the possession of Japan it would, in correlation with her other positions, constitute the pivot of naval supremacy in the Antipodes.

"As the control of the South Pacific is determined by a proper naval utilization of Pago-Pago, so is the naval dominion of the North Pacific determined by the possession of Alaska. To Japan, the intrinsic value of Alaska, with its inexhaustible wealth, is greater than any other American possession.

"Hawaii can be considered the most important in the Pacific. Nearly 15 years ago (from 1909) the value of the Hawaiian Islands, and the necessity of their possession to any nation who would be sovereign over the Pacific, was recognized by Japan. When this Republic annexed the islands at that time, Japan alone protested and notified the American Government that she would not then, nor at any time in the future, acquiesce in the control of the Hawaiian Islands by this nation.

"Years have now passed, but the protest of Japan has never been withdrawn, nor have preparations ever ceased to bring about in due time its enforcement.

"As maritime mastery of ancient nations depended on the possession of provinces supplying material for naval construction, in modern times the possession of military and naval bases bears the same relation to the control of the sea. The power of nations should be apportioned to the number and security of such bases.

"The future of Japan depends upon the possession of a sufficient number of such positions. Failure to secure these will, in time, relegate her to the environs of her rocky islands, and, like Egypt, though twenty-nine dim centuries shall pass, she shall rise up not again forever."

Brief Conclusion of "A Business That Was Different" Series

By CARLOS DRAKE

The present war situation prompts me to briefly conclude the personal record I have been submitting in serial form. Like everyone else here, I am more interested in what we are now facing than in a memory of an era which disappeared 12 years ago.

The business I have described continued under my management until 1931, when I sold a major interest in it to two members of my staff. In 1932, I severed all connection with it. It has been operating to date in Chicago under the name Drake Travel Service.

Many seeds were sown in the screwy '20s for what is transpiring throughout the world today, and from time to time, while recounting my experiences, I have tried to indicate this. But now, when grave immediate circumstances demand all our attention, there can be little curiosity of things past, however they may bear upon the present. Later on, perhaps, their lighter aspects may be a relief from current worries, and a pleasant nostalgia may be revived.

As I wrote, when starting the series, my business in Europe was, in a sense, an extravagant expression of an era that has gone. It was developed during a period when such things were possible, and it will never occur again in precisely the same way.

"Pinafore" to Open December 18 at First Theater

Had the Troupers of the Gold Coast planned far ahead, they could not have chosen a more timely offering than the rollicking, joyous "Pinafore", which the Denny-Watrous Management, under the direction of Ronald Telfer, presents next week in the First Theater in California, Monterey, on Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21.

"H. M. S. Pinafore" was first produced in the Opera Comique, London, on May 25, 1878. The music was written by Sullivan, the words by Gilbert.

The cast for the Gold Coast Trouper production next week is, in the opinion of Ronald Telfer, director, highly competent. Norma Wiley, with a high, pure lyric soprano, will be introduced to First Theater audiences as Josephine, the "lass that loved a sailor." Eddie George, the Troupers' tenor, will sing Ralph, the gallant seaman. Edward Hopkins, in overwhelming dignity of braid and epaulets, will play and sing the Rt. Honorable Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B. Little Buttercup, "a plump and pleasing person", the darling of the fleet, will be taken by Rash.

Pine Cone Adds 17 Oaks to High School

The Pine Cone has raised $8.75 for oak trees to be planted at the High School—enough for 17 trees.

We are still taking contributions so that if you wish to add some trees to the lasting beauty of Carmel, stop by and leave your donation. Fifty cents will buy an oak. The money is being turned over to the school which, with the cooperation of the P.T. A., is undertaking the planting program.

State Guard Gives Nautical Party

An informal dance, open to the public, will be given by the enlisted men of the Monterey Unit of the California State Guard Nautical Corps.

The party, complete with orchestra and floor show, will be presented Friday, Dec. 12, in the American Legion hall in Monterey.

Chairman of the affair is Bill Bryant, assisted by Fred Hawes, William Bradford, George Blankenship and Francis Parker.

Tickets can be obtained from any of the enlisted men. Profits made from the dance will be used to cover future canteen and cruise expenses.

elle Doree. Dick Boone will play the famous, sinister role of Dick Deadeye. Paul Clemmensen will sing the Boatswain, Lucille Harper plays Cousin Hebe, while Louise Welty, Gail Johnson, Hazel Turner, Julia Newbauer, Harriett Hansen, Jean Humphrey, Roland Scheffler, William Bishop, Howard Newbauer, Bob McMenamin will be the sisters, cousins, aunts and sailors.

Rhoda Johnson is making the costumes and Franklin Dixon is building the quarter deck of the H. M. S. Pinafore. Tickets are on sale at Stanford's Drug Store.

The usual gay olio will follow the stage production.

Newcomer Has Calm Passage from Lisbon

Patricia Margoliouth, long-time friend of Lady Claude Kinnoull, arrived in Carmel Monday from Europe. She had to wait 10 months in Lisbon for her American visa.

The most striking feature of her trip was that, traveling in an American boat, she came across the Atlantic without seeing a single plane or submarine.

Miss Margoliouth thought one of the most striking things about New York was the automats. She loves them.

Carmel's newest refugee is young, dark-eyed, and has a charming, quiet English manner.

Formerly associated with the Tablef, Catholic weekly published in London, the newcomer was a secretary at the British embassy prior to her departure from Lisbon.

She says Portugal has plenty of food and even coffee, but that Spain is close to starvation.

When she left a month ago, Miss Margoliouth saw no sign that either country expected to be invaded although she believes that they will be involved in the war eventually. She says Lisbon is full of spies from all over the world.

THE VOICE OF CARMEL

WHEREAS, The citizens resident in Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, have met in public meeting, and affirming their allegiance to the principle of honorable peace, as opposed to war,
 AND WHEREAS, The President, having exhausted every honorable means to keep the United States out of war,
 AND WHEREAS, The Congress has declared the existence of a state of war with the Imperial Government:
 THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED; That it is the sense of this meeting that we pledge our undivided support to the President and the Congress of the United States in whatever course may be deemed necessary to uphold the honor of this country and the sacred rights of humanity.

CARMEL CITIZENS WILL BACK PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS TO THE LIMIT

Notwithstanding the rape of Belgium, notwithstanding Holweg's statement that treaties are "mere scraps of paper," notwithstanding the ruthless taking of Zimmerman's Japanese - Mexican American lives, notwithstanding many other illegal and inhuman acts on the part of the German government, E. A. Hayes, representing the Eighth California District in Congress, voted "No" on the declaration of war.

If Congressman Hayes had been present at Carmel's patriotic meeting last Friday night he would have heard enough to cause him to vote "Yes" should occasion again arise, and should he still be our representative.

A gathering which taxed the capacity of Manzanita Hall was on hand when chairman George W. Fishback, in a ringing address, called the meeting to order and stated its purposes. He said:

The moment that the Government of the United States reached a decision in the present crisis in international affairs citizens of the United States in communities of all sizes have felt it to be their duty, irrespective of their predilections, irrespective of their previous opinions as to the nature of that decision, have felt it their duty to gather together, and in the form of concerted asseveration to give expression to their fealty to the Government, and to pledge their whole-hearted support to its undertakings.

At the conclusion of the chairman's address, W. L. Overstreet presented a set of resolutions upon which various speakers based their remarks.

The audience was roused to a high pitch of enthusiasm, not only by the fervid remarks of the speakers, but by the singing of patriotic airs, led by Mrs. Mabel Gray Young, and by the display of United States flags.

Almost without exception the speakers affirmed their fealty to the principle of peace; they deplored the necessity of the United States going to war. But the overwhelming sentiment of those present was, that, being at war, not of our own initiative, but by force of circumstances, it was the duty of every citizen to back the President and Congress to the limit, that the war be brought to a conclusion successful for the United States.

It was pointed out that the participation of this country in the war is an act in behalf of all mankind. No longer shall it be possible for autocratic government, such as is represented by the German Kaiser, to exist. The United States enters this conflict with high ideals and a beneficent purpose—i. e., the inculcation of the principle of government of, for and by the people.

For 17 minutes the audience, with demonstrations of disapproval, listened to Dr. P. W. Search's pacifistic remarks. The speaker, while declaring his sympathy with the spirit of the resolution, did not endorse that paragraph which stated that the President had exhausted every honorable means to avoid a conflict. Dr. Search very evidently selected the wrong time and the wrong occasion for a dissertation on peace, judging from the wild applause which greeted the remarks of those who replied to him.

Mrs. R. J. DeYoe and others made strong appeals for cooperation in the work of the Red Cross.

The resolution was adopted by a standing vote. Not a voice was raised in objection.

Amidst the waving of flags and the singing of "America" the first patriotic meeting in Monterey since the declaration of war, adjourned.

"Yank in the RAF" Opens This Sunday

The first story of Britain's fighting RAF will zoom across the screen of the Carmel Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, when the new film, "A Yank in the RAF" opens.

With Tyrone Power as the Yank and Betty Grable as the Yank's sweetheart, this story of England's men of the skies follows them as they live, love and laugh on the land and perform deeds of heroism in the air as part of their everyday job.

The story follows Tyrone, an American flyer in Britain who joins the RAF to get some action. Bored by the instructions he must take and the routine of his duties, he does not get along well with his fellow pilots or his commanding officer, played by John Sutton. And his romance with Betty Grable receives a setback when Sutton proposes marriage to her.

The evacuation at Dunkirk has been acclaimed as one of the most exciting ever filmed. Actual combat pictures, filmed by the RAF in action, show the thrilling dog fights in the air, dive bombers dropping their deadly loads and add to the thrills of the film.

Friday and Saturday, "Navy Blue and Gold," starring James Stewart, Robert Young and Lionel Barrymore, will be seen. Also Zane Grey's "Riders of the Purple Sage" with George Montgomery.

SELLS PLANE

Alton Walker has sold his Stinson airplane to William S. Munz who is equipping it with skis and will use it to fly passengers and freight from Taylor to Nome, Alaska.

Christmas Traffic Jams

Your telephone company hardly ever has traffic jams—except on Christmas. To handle the Christmas long distance traffic we would have to double the highways of speech between many places, and leave most of them idle the other 364 days of the year.

We will have everything we've got ready for this year's Christmas rush. Far more people than normal will be working Christmas Eve and Day. But if everyone wants to talk long distance as they did last year there will be traffic jams and delays. If your calling that day isn't particularly urgent it would help a lot if you called early Christmas week or a day or two after the holiday.

Thank you.

Navy Needs Men for Aviation Ground Work

The U. S. Navy needs more men who desire basic training for aviation ground work. To supply this need, schools have been established at four separate Naval air stations to give instruction in the work of aviation metalsmith, aviation machinist's mate, aviation ordnanceman and aviation radio man. Locations of these schools are Jacksonville, Fla.; Norfolk, Va.; Pensacola, Fla.; and San Diego, Calif.

These schools are open to recruits who have the aptitude and qualify for this schooling on the completion of their recruit training period and before their assignment to sea duty. These aviation ground work schools are called Class "A" Schools, Group IV, because they give basic instruction and are the 4th group of trade schools open to recruits, the others being Group I, electrical and ordnance; Group II, communication and clerical; and Group III, machinists, metalworkers and aviation ordnancemen.

The aviation metalsmith course gives special instruction in the properties of metals, heat-treatment of metals, cutting, forging, and in those phases of welding and brazing essential to aviation. Aviation machinist's mate training covers bench, vice and floor work necessary to the machinist and instruction in the use of power tools. U. S. seamen who are interested in this work will also obtain practical experience in the operation, care and repair of aviation engines used in the Navy and will learn to assemble and disassemble such engines as well as learn to install them in planes and check all phases of operation such as carburetion, timing and lubrication.

Aviation ordnanceman training consists of instruction in the use and maintenance of machine-guns and other weapons used in Naval aircraft. This course includes a study of boresighting guns, synchronizing gun fire with propellers in motion, mounting and effective use of guns. The recruit entering this course of instruction also will learn the use of gun cameras, and the rigging and release of high-speed targets for practice.

Aviation radiomen receive general radio training in addition to those phases of radio peculiar to aircraft.

In addition to the technical job training outlined above, Carmel's recruiting officer, A. Fam, U. S. N., informs us that there are nearly 50 trade jobs and vocations for which patriotic young men can receive training when they join Uncle Sam's new "Two-Ocean" Navy.

United States Naval Aviation needs all young men between the ages of 20 and 28, inclusive, unmarried, sound physically, with two years of college or junior college training.

Stork Braves Storm—

Mr. Stork has lots of nerve these days . . . he's flying around up there, and dropping baby bundles just like nothing ever happened. One bundle, a boy named Ronald, was delivered to Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Levy Saturday, the 6th. "Ronnie" was born in the Peninsula Community Hospital, weighing exactly 7 lbs., 9 ounces. The Levy's have the Leather Gift Shop on Dolores street, and make their home on Second and Santa Rita.

Mr. Stork reported to the census bureau again on Sunday, the 7th that he had delivered a little Miss to Mr. and Mrs. George Mosolf, of Second and Lobos streets. The baby girl was prettily named Susan Louise.

Leroux Reception Success—

The charming young French pianist, Germaine Leroux, was honored at a reception Saturday night, after her magnificent concert at Sunset Auditorium. The reception for the petite artist was held in the Highlands home of Frank Wickman, and was attended by many thrilled music lovers, who were fortunate indeed to hear Miss Leroux perform in Carmel.

Racquet Club Elects Officers—

The annual meeting of the Pebble Beach Racquet Club was held last Saturday afternoon, Dec. 6 at 3 p. m. The meeting was enthusiastically attended by a major portion of members, and officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: Stanley Simonson, president; J. W. A. Smith, vice-president; Ashton Stanley, secretary-treasurer; and on the board of directors, Mrs. Charles C. Shepard, Mrs. Sidney A. Trevett, Mrs. Adolf Hanke, Charles

POST OFFICE STAYS OPEN SATURDAYS

Fuller, Jon Konigshofer, and Howard Veit. A very lovely tea followed the meeting, in the lounge of Del Monte Lodge, where interesting plans were discussed for the ensuing year.

"Charlie" at Lodge—

The wooden wizard, Charlie McCarthy, and his adorable cousin, Mortimer, have been guests at Del Monte Lodge for the past week. (Incidentally, a Mr. Bergen is accompanying them.) Other guests at the lodge this week are Anne Sothern of screen fame, and Eric Stacey, of Warner Bros. Studios, and Mrs. Stacey, who are holidaying for a short time.

The American Red Cross is starting a new class at Del Monte Lodge, for people of the Pebble Beach area. Their first meeting was held Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., and was enthusiastically supported.

A meeting of the board of the Monterey County League of Women Voters will be held Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 10 a. m. Mrs. W. H. Hargis will be hostess for the meeting at her home, Corral de Tierra. Members are requested to bring sandwiches.

Honor Student—

We are proud of Katherine Beaton of Carmel, who is a senior student majoring in English at the University of California. Katherine was recently named to the Honor Students association on the Berkeley campus, for upper division standing, and a "B" average.

The Douglas Winslows flew home from Seattle, Wash., last Saturday morning, after several weeks' stay with friends.

Visiting Mrs. Ray De Yoe for several days were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haas of the Haas Candy Company in San Francisco.

After several weeks vacation at the home of their daughter and son-in-law in Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linneman left there this week to return to Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greiner drove down the coast to Big Sur this week-end to bring back with them their daughter, Jean, and her husband, Dexter Martin. The Martins left Carmel Monday after a quiet week-end. Mrs. Greiner is planning a trip to Los Angeles this week, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. J. A. Kirby for ten days. Mrs. Kirby may return with her sister.

Stops Here—

When the disturbing news came Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. John Terrell were spending a quiet month in Ojai, where John was working on a new book. Now he has gone back to his old job on the "Chronicle" in San Francisco, where they need reporters badly, while his wife, the former Margarita White of Carmel, stops off here for a couple of weeks, with old friends.

Burroughs Speaks for P-T. A.—

Should there be a government control of the price of essential food commodities as a step to avert inflation with its inevitable succeeding depression? This was the question B. L. Burroughs, head of the sociological department of the Salinas Junior College asked the members of the Carmel P-T. A. at their regular monthly meeting in the library at the Sunset school, last Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 9.

The subject matter of Mr. Burrough's address, "The Cost of Living and Home Economy in Monterey County", was based on statistics obtained through government channels in a survey of "the cost of living of the low income bracket," made at the request of the people of Salinas. This is the only survey made in the west, outside of major cities.

The retail price of food is raising two per cent per month, but the wholesale price is up 20%, and the cost of raw materials 30%. Labor however, is up only 1.2%.

A fair-sized group of mothers and teachers, with a scant sprinkling of men, left off the making of their blackout curtains for a short time to listen to Mr. Burroughs.

The P. T. A. emergency registration cards were given to many who had not previously filled them out. Miss Clara Kellogg reported that the high school pupils had over-subscribed their "oak tree fund." At the close of the meeting tea was served.

Farewell Luncheon—

Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Burleigh Hall Murray entertained at uncheon and bridge for Mrs. Zenas L. Potter, who left Wednesday for Washington, to join her husband. Mrs. Murray was a charming hostess to the small group of guests who assembled in the lounge at La Playa. Among those who bade "pleasant trip" to Mrs. Potter were: Mrs. John E. Abernethy, Mrs. Fraser Hancock, Mrs. Thomas Douglas, Mrs. Malcolm Wood, Mrs. Alfred Gordon Bagley, Mrs. A. A. Arehart, Mrs. H. Tumin, Mrs. Lillian Locke, Mrs. W. E. Pulliam, Mrs. A. MacDow, Mrs. Leon Fisher, Mrs. Francis Hallyard, Mrs. Ruth Griggs and Mrs. Murray.

An audience of over 125 enjoyed the dramatic production of Emmet Lavery's "Pie in the Sky" at the Carmel Playhouse last Sunday afternoon, irrespective of the shocking news from Hawaii which kept so many people at home with their radios.

Presented by the San Francisco Catholic Theater Guild, the play was very well received. Remarks heard between the acts indicated an enthusiastic appreciation of the acting, and of the unusual sets created by Carmel's own Micaela Martinez.

A review of the play will appear in next week's issue of The Pine Cone.

Red Cross Holds Annual Meeting

With a gratifyingly large and eager attendance, the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross held its annual meeting at the All Saints Parish House, Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Reports of activities during the past year were given by the 11 chairmen and the record presented showed an enormous amount of activity in each of the departments.

Among those numbered were such items as that our schools are now 100 per cent enrolled in Junior Red Cross, our own Red Cross ambulance has performed 103 missions during the year, the service to the station hospital at Fort Ord has a large group of women who have given many hours of service, and our chapter has provided many of the furnishings to the recreation hut.

Donated to the hut by our chapter was a grand piano, a radio-phonograph, all the window drapes and curtains (the curtains being manufactured in our own workrooms, which in addition have turned out over 4000 items for war relief).

The motor corps reported on services to convalescents in the Station Hospital at Fort Ord and extensive duty at the fire last October, also the surgical dressing unit of Carmel Valley numbers nearly 400,000 dressings made and shipped to army centers in England, Greece, China and to our own forces. Our disaster preparedness group is all set to take its important part in the protection of this area against civil or military emergency, the latter in close cooperation with the Civilian Defense set-up, any classes are being conducted and formed under Red Cross instructors to train people in first aid and home nursing.

The Roll Call has been closed with our quota well exceeded, and the treasurer reported that the finances for local service are in good shape. The high note of the meeting was reached when the announcement was made that this chapter has been assessed in the sum of $6000 as our part in the nationwide campaign for a Red Cross War Fund of $50,000,000. The response was so immediate that we are certain to attain this goal in a very few days; in fact, subscriptions are already coming in.

BUNDLES FOR BRITAIN FUNDS TO GO TO U. S. GOBS

A bulletin has been received by the Bundles for Britain saying, from now on half of the funds received by that organization will go to Britain, and half to America. The news has also come through that the knitting that was being sent to British lieutenants will now go to American bluejackets.

Plans have already been made to send all the money made this month to the Philippines. The first sweater to go to the U. S. Navy came in Wednesday.

MATHIOT HEADS PERUVIAN HORSE BREEDERS

At a meeting of the Peruvian Horse Breeders' Association at Montezuma Boys' School, K. D. Mathiot of Carmel Valley was elected to the board of directors.

This association was organized to perpetuate and develop the famous Peruvian saddle horse, well known for its beautiful build and smooth gait.

FIELD TRIP FOR FIRST GRADE

Miss Schnabel's first grade class visited the Carmel Dairy last Friday where they were shown all the workings of a dairy. Carole Byers asked where all the milk was kept before it was put on the trucks; so everyone was taken to the big ice-box. To their surprise the door was closed after them! They decided that 40 above zero was a little too chilly; so the squealing children quickly filed out. Each child received a double milk cap as a souvenir. The children wish to thank the Carmel Dairy for the good time and for all the things they were able to learn from the trip.

We have a cave man in our room! We also have a camel, an elephant, a stagecoach and a covered wagon. Some people drew these pictures on a long piece of black paper, then colored them with chalk. It made a nice border for our blackboard.

Carol James, Grade 5.

On Friday, Nov. 28, the fifth grade boys played the sixth grade boys a game of soccer. It was a fairly good game, but it only lasted about ten minutes. I think most of the boys had fun, anyway. The score was 0 to 0.

Pat Dormody, Grade 6.

Once a week each pupil in our class gives a news report and on the map we point to the geographic locations. Reports must be on points of current interest.

Sherlie Sousa, Grade 6.

Here's a tip for candy-makers! To cool fudge quickly, remove from the fire and place the pan in a bowl of cold water. Two girls in our class found that it doesn't work so well when you just pour the candy into the water.

Patricia Machado, Grade 7.

Navy Secretary Knox told his press conference recently the Navy's shipbuilding program "is continuing to beat all projected schedules."

John Burr Gives Recital Tuesday

Despite the threat of bombs and blackouts, music lovers will not be cheated out of the thrill of hearing the voice of Carmel's John Burr, well known basso cantante, who will present his second annual concert on Tuesday night at 8:30 p. m., in the Playhouse.

John, who has been busily engaged in the role of vocal instructor in Carmel for the last two years, and who has conducted two successful classes in voice culture for the Adult School, will be remembered as the outstanding bass soloist in the Bach Festival and his Carmel debut made over a year ago.

Those who have heard Burr's voice have always been pleased with his choice of progress, his rich voice so capable of handling the strong operatic fortissimo, his excellent control, his feeling for each individual song, and his enjoyable stage manner, that pleasing quality which acts as a bridge to span the depths between singer and audience.

The program will be a varied one. The deep mellow music of Handel, which Burr interprets so masterpieces of other great composers, will be present among the posers such as Schubert, Tchaikovsky, Koeneman, Tcherepnin, Bizet, Thomas and Mozart. There will also be a group of spirituals sung by a singer who has a deep sympathy and understanding for the music of other peoples.

Among the last group will be the popular "When I Have Sung My Songs", Foster's "Beautiful Dreamer", and the "Indian Lament", written especially for John

The boys and girls of Mrs. Uzzell's seventh grade Wednesday, from 1 to 2:30, gave an English tea, at which they presented the colorful afghan knitted with their own needles and yarn, to Mrs. Burleigh Hall Murray of the Bundles for Britain.

Mrs. Murray will in turn send it to Queen Elizabeth to be given to some English child in need of comfort and warmth.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

Last night a special council meeting was held for the first reading of an ordinance to raise the salaries of local policemen.

THOUGHTS ON THE DAY OF THE DECLARATION OF WAR
The ocean is thundering.
The sky is lowered.
Birds of the sea are flying and crying in.
We are waiting.

Rocks and trees take on sombre aspect,
The lands are soft and waiting,
Ready to receive.
So are we, waiting.

Death draws closer his shroud,
Draws up his bony height.
His minions count the hours,
As we do, who are waiting.
—Jerry McFadden,
(Carmel High School)

Hal Garrott: "How is your world this morning?"

Bernard Rountree: "Fine, thank you. Fine."

H. G.: "That is, assuming you own all this around here."

B. R.: "I own all I can enjoy."
